PE-RU-NA RECEIVES PRAISE

For Relieving Such Symptoms as Debility, Backache and Headache.

THERE are a great many phases of woman's ailments that require the assistance of the surgeon.

But by far the greater number of such cases are amenable to correct medicinal treatment.

No surgeon in the world has relieved so many women from the different phases of ailments peculiar to woman-kind as Dr. Hartman through the use of Peruna.

Here receive many letters from all parts of the country relating to subjects of vital interest to woman-kind.

Of the vast multitude of women Dr. Hartman cures annually, only a small per cent. of them consider it necessary to write to the Doctor at all.

Not one in a thousand of these fortunate women report their success. Of those who do write testimonials, only a very small per cent. are ever used in public print.

While it is not affirmed that Peruna will cure every case of this kind, it is certainly the part of wisdom for every woman so afflicted to give Peruna a fair trial. Her chances of relief are so many that any woman would be doing herself an injustice to neglect such an opportunity of relief.

Mrs. Emma E. Gildner, 729 Santa Fe Ave., Denver, Col., Financial Secretary Germania Order der Herrgarte, writes:

"Peruna has been a great blessing to me. I suffered agonies with severe headaches and a weak back and could hardly drag myself around."

"A friend who was visiting me was taking Peruna for the same trouble and induced me to try it. I soon found that I was being helped and in less than three weeks I feel like a different woman and in four months I was well. Peruna certainly gave me strength."

"I consider it an ideal woman's remedy."

"I am pleased to endorse Peruna."

Very Precarious Condition.

Mrs. Lottie Ward, 617 Tracy Ave., Kansas City, Mo., writes: "A few years ago my health was in a very precarious condition, the result of womb trouble and general debility. I suffered a great deal and was glad to try Peruna when it was recommended to me so highly. I found it very beneficial. In a short time the pains greatly decreased and in two months I was completely restored."

"I am pleased to endorse Peruna."

GOES BACK TO PRISON.

Escaped Convict Becomes Evangelist and Gives Himself Up.

IS A MODERN JEAN VALJEAN.

Michigan City, Ind., Oct.—Immaculately attired as a minister of the gospel, appearing in every way to be an upright man of irreproachable life, a stranger entered the office of the Indiana state prison and declared that he was an escaped convict and had come to serve the rest of his sentence.

"My name is Allen J. Lawrence and I escaped from this prison in September, 1906," said the man.

Then he told Warden James Reid the story of his wanderings through the west, of his successful evasion of pursuit for the first few months of his liberty and of the change in his life which had led him to become an evangelist and resulted eventually in his determination to give himself up.

He traced his wanderings as a hunted being in the harvest fields of Kansas and Nebraska, where, friendless and alone, he sought only to keep from too close association with his fellowmen, lest his secret be discovered.

Then he described the accidental visit to a revival meeting on the prairie where, in the flickering light of torches pitched in front of the "prairie schooner" of a wandering missionary, there was opened a vision of the comfort which came with a belief in God.

THE CONVICT IS CONVERTED

And then he told of his decision to preach the gospel and of the success which had attended his efforts to convert others as he had been converted. And at last, his voice broken with tears, he told of the lashing of his conscience which spurred him continually to reveal his true identity and return to the prison from which he had fled.

"It was hard," he sobbed. "But I have won and I will serve the sentence which man's law has imposed on me, even though I am not guilty of the crime for which I am being punished."

"I cannot preach the gospel to men and women, and, with that eloquence which is no credit to myself but a gift direct from heaven, move them to tears and to repentance as long as I feel that if they knew I was a fugitive from the prison they would cry that I was a hypocrite."

BACK TO PRISON LABOR.

Almost in tears himself at the strange recital of the returned prisoner, Warden Reid ordered that Lawrence's clerical garments be taken from him, and replaced with the prison garb. In less than an hour after he had entered the prison office the man was back with the prison laborers.

He was sentenced in April, 1906, from Laporte, Ind., where he had been employed as a laborer. He was found guilty of attacking a girl and was sentenced to serve from two to fourteen years.

He protested his innocence, but was convicted on circumstantial evidence. His wife believed in him and made great efforts to secure pardon, but without success. In September, 1906, after he had been in the prison less than five months, he was made a trusty. Almost immediately he escaped from the prison yard.

When Lawrence went west he took the name of James Williams and after he was received as an evangelist in the Methodist church, he was known as the Rev. James Williams.

Runaway Administration.

A Cleveland, Ohio, dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Bishop Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, of the diocese of Missouri, primate of the Episcopal church in the United States, has joined the critics of President Roosevelt by supporting John D. Rockefeller in the latter's complaint that the administration is a runaway affair. Bishop Tuttle is in Cleveland, to attend the dedication of the great Trinity Cathedral. Asked his views on the present status of national affairs, Bishop Tuttle said: 'The present is an era of unreasonable and unreasoning clamor, both on the part of the people generally and on the part of the federal government. To an extent I agree with John D. Rockefeller when he calls it a runaway administration. The attitude of the government is neither just to the large corporations against which its crusade is aimed nor just to the people who are behind the movement. It is exaggerated. When we as a nation settle down, there will come a wholesome, stable, though I do not say kindly, at least a just public opinion which will bring a reasonable situation to pass. We declare we are being oppressed—strangled, if you will—by monopolies. This is not so. Taking advantage of this cry, we have begun actions against these corporations which are not prosecutions. They really are persecutions to a certain extent. In a little while we will begin to see that we are going at the thing too harshly. We and the president will find there is another side to the fight and that there is much to say for the corporations. I think our railroad presidents, our corporation heads will begin to see the rule of brotherly love is strong and that to prosper they must live up to it.'"

Rash Rogers' Experience.

Poultny Bigelow said the other day of the chicken farm that he is about to set up at Malden:

"I hope we succeed with the farm. I hope our experience won't too closely resemble that of my old friend Horatio Rogers."

"Rash Rogers lived in the suburbs. On the suburban train one morning he said to me with a sour laugh:

"I've got something nobody else has got, Mr. Bigelow."

"Have you, Rash?" said I. "What is it?"

"Well," said Rogers, "I bought a $50 incubator last month, put $15 worth of eggs in it, and hatched out a blue bottle fly."

"He frowned, then sighed."

"Yes," he said, "I've got the only $65 blue bottle fly in the world."—Philadelphia Record.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, in reason of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause, would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve tonic "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorates the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Ready to take at all times.

IT'S ROOSEVELT.

Senator Stone Says Bryan and Roosevelt Will Be the Opposing Presidential Candidates.

K. C. Post.

"The Republicans are going to nominate Roosevelt," said Senator William J. Stone, who was a visitor in Kansas City, "and we Democrats are going to have Bryan to make the race against him. Roosevelt is 25 per cent weaker and Taft is 20 per cent weaker than Cannon, Hughes or Fairbanks, but Roosevelt will be the candidate in spite of the assertion that he has made to the effect that he would not accept a third term. If we Democrats were real wise we would ship some cub bears down to Roosevelt. He has said that he will remain in the jungles until he has killed a bear, which might mean that he will be compelled to stay there until after the election. We don't want him to do that. Roosevelt ought to be nominated if the Democrats want to elect their man this time."

The senator said that he did not know whether this river trip would help Roosevelt in Missouri or not. When asked his opinion on this particular question he said:

"I don't know whether the recent stand that Roosevelt has taken in reference to river improvement will help him or not, but even so, Missouri will be against him if Bryan will run. There is nothing under the sun that can stop Bryan in this state."

"Yes, the Republicans are very much in evidence just now. With Teddy after bear in Louisiana, Loeb after wolves elsewhere, Taft in China and Root in South America, they are quite in evidence. There should be no paramount issue in the next campaign. I hope that there is none. Roosevelt has pretty well threshed any that there might be."

Senator Stone said that he was not going to Washington for some time. Senator Warner leaves to-day. "I haven't any President or secretaries to report to," said Mr. Stone.

QUAIL PLENTIFUL IN OKLAHOMA.

The Hunting Season Began at Midnight, Ends January 31.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 21.—The open season for shooting quail in Oklahoma, which began at midnight and will continue until midnight, January 31, 1908, is without precedent for the number of birds to be found everywhere in the new state. Quail have increased so rapidly in the last four or five years that each succeeding season left an ever-increasing surplus of old birds for breeding. Quail may be found in practically untold numbers anywhere in Oklahoma. They abound by thousands.

The birds are thrifty, and fifteen and twenty young birds in a brood is not uncommon. Two broods are frequently hatched. Unfortunately, the later brood often is too small for sport at the beginning of the season, and for this reason it is possible that the first legislature may be asked to fix the beginning of the open season about November 1, fifteen days later.

Each year finds a better enforcement of the game laws, which are severe. Quail may not be sold or given away or shipped to points outside the state or from one point in the state to another point in the state. A strict enforcement of the law would deprive citizens of the opportunity to eat quail; unless they personally killed them. This protection has enabled quail to increase rapidly in numbers. Hunters are not required to pay a license.

Is Your Hair Sick?

That's too bad! We had noticed it was looking pretty thin and rough of late, but naturally did not like to speak of it. By the way, Ayer's Hair Vigor is a regular hair grower, a perfect hair tonic. ## Shackled Skeletons Found.

New York, Oct. 21.—Skeletons with iron shackles about their crumbling waists were unearthed near Chambers street and Broadway, along the City Hall Park side of Chambers street. Each of the shackles was a quarter of an inch thick and nearly two inches wide, which had in its day been covered with a veneer of wood to protect the flesh from the cold touch of the iron in winter and to make it less galling in summer. In many cases the bones were broken, and several showed places where they had knitted together after being fractured. One skull had a small, round hole through the top as though made by a bullet.

It is believed that the skeletons are of prisoners hastily buried from the old town prison of New Amsterdam in the days of Peter Stuyvesant, or possibly Continental troops who died in the Sugarhouse Prison of the English. Another suggestion is that they were the bones of pre-Revolutionary slaves. The presence of bones that appeared to have been those of mere children gave some strength to this supposition, though the size of the skulls and the height of the foreheads did not indicate the negro type.

Name the Good Ones.

The Commoner.

The Wall Street Journal quotes from John Sherman to show that in introducing what is called the Sherman anti-trust law he "aimed at making it strike only at unlawful combinations." The Journal adds that the Sherman law should be amended so as to provide for "reasonable combination." In the same editorial the Journal says "Sherman did not seem to have a clear idea of what was a good combination and what was a bad one." Well, others than John Sherman have failed to designate the good and bad trusts. Perhaps the Wall Street Journal can enlighten its readers on this point. Will it tell them the names of some of the good trusts?

Heiress Again Fears Asylum.

New York, Oct. 21.—Miss Alice L. Stanton Smith, of St. James, L. I., heiress to $100,000 and a cousin of Mrs. Stanford White, the J. P. Wethersalls and the Prescott Hall Butlers of Long Island, appealed to the Society for the Prevention of Crime for protection against the relatives, who, she says, are seeking to send her to an insane asylum a fourth time.

For ten years Miss Smith alleges she has been incarcerated at various times by these relatives and ill-used by keepers into whose hands they have thrust her. At different times she has been committed to Amityville, Saint Vincente and Bloomingdale.

"It started ten years ago, when I was a slip of a girl," said Miss Smith. "I had just been bequeathed $100,000 by my mother's will. Since then my relatives have left me no peace."
